

CHUCK

Carver: Carl Borst

Rotterdam, NY

Sponsor: Anonymous

Chuck has one of the most beautiful faces on the carousel. In this picture Chuck is taking a break.

As you wander around the building, you'll notice a few carvings that are not riding the carousel on the day of your visit. An animal might be taken off as part of a regular rotation, to use in a display, or it may be taken off if paint touch-up will take longer than 1 night. The carousel is open year-round so we do get plenty of kids climbing through snowbanks to get here. That's ok. This is Saranac Lake. Just stomp your boots off as best you can and let's ride!

BEAVER

The Beaver is a very large rodent. They are powerfully built which enables them to carry heavy loads over long distances. They have webbed feet and are excellent swimmers. You may see a beaver slapping its flat tail on the water. This is a warning sign. Beavers live near lakes and build lodges for shelter. They build dams to form ponds around their shelters. Their teeth never stop growing and contain iron for easy chewing.
